

Joint Labour Committee for the food industry 118, subsector : Tinned meat, sausages, salted meat, smoked meat and meat derivatives, Guts factories (processing and treatment of rough and dry guts, calibrating and sticking included), Fat melting, Poultry slaughterhouses, Slaughterhouses and workshops for cutting meat

This sub-sector is no official Joint Sub-committee (JSC). The wage data below are however listed in the sectorial collective agreements in the official Joint Committee (JLC 118).

In accordance with European law, this document only contains provisions of collective labour agreements (CLA) which have been declared universally applicable within the meaning of Directive 96/71/EG, i.e., in Belgian Labour Law, CLA's made mandatory by Royal Decree, and which are criminally sanctioned in case of non-compliance.

This document is based on sectoral CLA's. The competent Joint Committee is therefore the one that can ultimately deliver a judgment about the right interpretation of its CLA's.

The CLA's hereafter can be consulted on the site of the FPS ELSD in Dutch or in French :

End-of-year bonus

CHAPTER II. Right to an end-of-year bonus

Art. 2.

The Parties agree to grant an end-of-year bonus to blue collar workers with at least 1 month of service in the company

Art. 3.

§ 1. The blue collar workers are entitled to an end-of-year-bonus at the rate of one twelfth per month of effectively performed services during the calendar year the end-of-year bonus is related to.

§ 2. Without prejudice to the application of Article 2, shall be assimilated to one month of effectively performed services:

- The month of recruitment, if the recruitment occurs between the 1st and the 15th of the month;
- The month of retirement, if retirement occurs after the 15th of the month.

§ 3. Contrary to paragraph 1 of this Article, the months of unemployment with company allowance give until 31 December of the current year the right to a payment of 20% of the remaining end-of-year bonus.

§ 4. Shall be assimilated for the purposes of this article with effectively performed services, the absences due to:

1. an industrial accident or occupational disease, giving rise to compensation. By industrial accident or occupational disease with partial temporary incapacity after a full temporary incapacity, the assimilation period is 12 months;

2. an accident or illness not referred to in the preceding paragraph. The assimilation period is 12 months;

- 16 legal and conventional annual holidays;
17. public holidays and lieu days of public holidays;
18. days of temporary unemployment;
19. military obligations of the citizens of a country of the European Union.

CHAPTER III. Amount of the end-of-year bonus

Art. 4.

§ 1. The calculation of the amount of the end-of-year bonus will be performed as well on the basis of the fixed remuneration as on the variable remuneration and on the benefits in kind that are subject to social security deductions. Bonuses or allowances granted as consideration of actual costs are not taken into account.

§ 2. The amount of the fixed remuneration equals 4 and 1 / 3rd weeks of gross hourly wages of December of the calendar year in which the end-of-year bonus. will be paid.

§ 3. Contrary to the preceding paragraph and in order to take into account the influence of campaign activities, the Parties agree that the gross hourly wage, to be taken into account for the payment of the end-of-year bonus by the employers and the blue collar workers of the sugar factories shall be calculated as follows:

- The first part equals 3/4 of the hourly wage that was due on 1 September of the current year;
- The other part equals 1/4 of the average hourly wage of November of the current year (including shift bonuses).

§ 4. The amount of the variable remuneration equals the monthly average of the contractual bonuses received from January till November of the calendar year in which the end-of-year bonus will be paid. The term "variable pay" is defined as: the contractual bonuses that are directly linked to the services performed by the blue collar worker, on which deductions are made for social security and periodicity of payment does not exceed one month.

Art. 5. For each day of unauthorized absence a certain percentage may be deducted from the amount of the end-of-year bonus determined by the Works' council, the union delegation or the work rules.

CHAPTER IV. Loss of the right to the end-of-year bonus

Art. 6.

§ 1. Lose the right to an end-of-year bonus:

- The blue collar workers who voluntarily leave the company during the first year of service;
- The blue collar workers who are dismissed for an urgent reason.

§ 2. Are not regarded as voluntary departure by the blue collar worker:

- The departure of the worker following an action by the employer and which is equivalent to a termination of the employment contract;
- The termination of the contract due to force majeure as a consequence of an occupational disease or an industrial accident.

CHAPTER V Payment of the end-of-year bonus

Art. 7.

Unless other arrangements have been agreed upon within the company, the end-of-year bonus is paid:

- before 25 December of the current calendar year for workers employed on 1 December ;
- for the other workers: at the moment they leave the company.

Five Days Week

CHAPTER III. Principle of the five-day week

Art. 3.

The timetables provided in the work rules divide, in principle, the maximum weekly working time over five days

CHAPTER IV. Exceptions

Art. 4.

Without prejudice to the provisions of the Labour Act relating to Sunday rest and work on public holidays the timetables may differ from the principle set out in Article 3 provided that there is an economic need for it and that at least one of the following reasons can be invoked:

- a) monitoring the company's premises;
- b) cleaning, repairing and maintaining, in so far as these activities are required for the regular continuation of the company activities;
- c) additional work outside of the production that is necessary for the regular resumption of the operations the next day;
- d) shift work to carry out work that should not be interrupted except for the bridge teams as provided for in Article 7 of the collective labour agreement of 30 March 1988 on the introduction of new working arrangements in companies;
- e) in case existing or pending collective labour agreement at company level regulate the derogation from the five-day week;
- f) if the employer calls in volunteers, provided a six-weeks' notice period is given in advance. Voluntariness must be in writing;
- g) if the employer calls in non-volunteers, after information of the works' council and / or the trade union delegation and provided a notice in advance of six weeks is given. In this case, the workers concerned may be employed up to six times per reference year for more than five days a week. The reference year is the calendar year or the 12 months period specified in the work rules or in a collective labour agreement for the compensatory rest for overtime or the application of the average working hours on a yearly basis.

Art. 5.

Performances, outside the five days established in the work rules are possible provided an economic necessity can be invoked and as far as the procedures for commissioning overtime hours are respected and the employer commissions overtime hours because of:

- a) work performed in order to cope with an occurred or imminent accident;
- b) urgent work on machinery or equipment;
- c) work required because of unforeseen circumstances as defined in the Article 26 of the Labour Act;
- d) work to prevent damage to raw materials or products;

e) work to cope with an exceptional increase of work.

CHAPTER V. Bonus

Art. 6.

§ 1. The sixth and seventh performed day of the week entitle in principle to a bonus of 25% of the normal basic hourly wage, unless stipulated otherwise in existing or pending collective agreements concluded at company level. This bonus is not due either if it is integrated in a shift bonus or replaced by equivalent benefits.

§ 2. The sixth and seventh effectively performed day of a week, comprising a holiday or alternative holiday falling on a Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday or Friday, entitle in principle to a bonus of 50% of the normal basic hourly wage, unless stipulated otherwise in existing or pending collective labour agreements concluded at company level. This bonus is not due if it is integrated in a team bonus or replaced by equivalent benefits in an enterprise agreement.

§ 3. The overtime allowance for overtime work performed on the sixth or seventh effectively performed day of the week is calculated on the normal basic hourly wage increased by the bonus determined in § 1 or 2.

§ 4. The worker remains entitled to the bonus provided for in this article when the performance of his employment contract is suspended during the first five working days of their working week.

Chapter III - Increasing the internal limit and of the quota of overtime hours for which the worker may waive compensatory rest

Art. 3.

§ 1. This chapter regulates the procedures to be followed in order to raise the internal limit of working hours that must be respected in the course of the reference period and the quota of overtime hours for which the worker may waive compensatory rest in accordance with Article 26bis, §1bis and §2bis of the labour act of March 16, 1971, to 130 hours or 143 hours.

§ 3. The provisions of this Collective Labour Agreement shall not affect the agreements already existing at company level at the time of the entry into force of this JLA and the number of overtime hours for which the worker may waive compensatory rest - and / or raise the internal limit to 130 hours

§ 4. In companies where, prior to the entry into force of this collective labour agreement already existed an agreement allowing the internal limit and / or the quota of overtime hours for which the worker may waive compensatory rest to be increased to 130 hours, these limits may be raised immediately to 143 hours in accordance with the procedure laid down in the articles 4 and 5.

In companies where, prior to the entry into force of this Collective Labour Agreement no such an agreement existed, the internal limit and / or the quota of overtime to which the worker may waive compensatory rest may be raised in an initial phase to 130 hours and in a second phase to 143 hours, if it is found that the increase to 130 hours does not meet the labour organizational needs of the company. The increase should be done in accordance with the procedure laid down in Articles 4 and 5.

Art. 4.

§ 1. If a trade union delegation exists in the company and within the limits of its competence, the increases set out in Article 3 are determined by a collective labour agreement in the sense of the Act of December 5, 1968 on the CLA and the joint committees, concluded with all the representative organizations represented in the trade union delegation.

§ 2. As of the filing of this collective labour agreement at the Registry of the Federal Public Service Employment Labour and Social Dialogue its provisions are automatically entered in the work rules to the extent that this entry is required pursuant to the provisions of Article 6 of the Act of April 8, 1965 establishing the work rules.

Art. 5.

In the absence of a competent trade union delegation the increases determined in Article 3 shall be established by:

- A collective labour agreement in the sense of the Act of December 5, 1968 on the CLA and joint committees. As of the filing of this collective labour agreement at the registry of the Federal Public Service Employment Labour and Social Dialogue its provisions are automatically entered in the work rules to the extent that this introduction is required pursuant to the provisions of Article 6 of the Act of April 8, 1965 establishing the work rules. A copy of the Collective Labour Agreement shall be sent to the Joint Committee; or

- Until June 30, 2017: by modifying the work rules in accordance with the procedure laid down in Article 5 § 3, 4 and 5 of above mentioned Royal Decree of September 11, 2013.
